En Garde. Ready? Fence!

The art of swordplay is highly regarded for its many benefits to both body and mind. For centuries fencing has been used to improve reaction time, dexterity, and grace. Fencing produces long, lean muscles, and develops lightning speed and endurance. Brainpower counts for far more in fencing than in many other sports. So if you are quick-witted, you can learn to defeat the quick-footed.

At Team Touche Fencing Center, students learn competitive technique and the strategy and analytical skills that all great fencers possess. Classes are light-hearted and entertaining because we know people learn new skills the fastest while they are having fun! Our classes provide a low-pressure and energized environment to allow these skills to grow.

Programs Encourage:

- Better posture, cardiovascular fitness, problem-solving skills, self-confidence and the basics of swordsmanship.
- Positive atmosphere that emphasizes team building.
- Learning the history of the duel and French/Italian terminology.
